AS SEEN ON CBBC!

What's a dog's favourite hobby? Collecting fleas!

INVENT A BLUETOOTH SPEAKER*!

A CATAPULT! DENNIS IS STILL WORKING ON THE NAME!

WHAT TO DO:

1

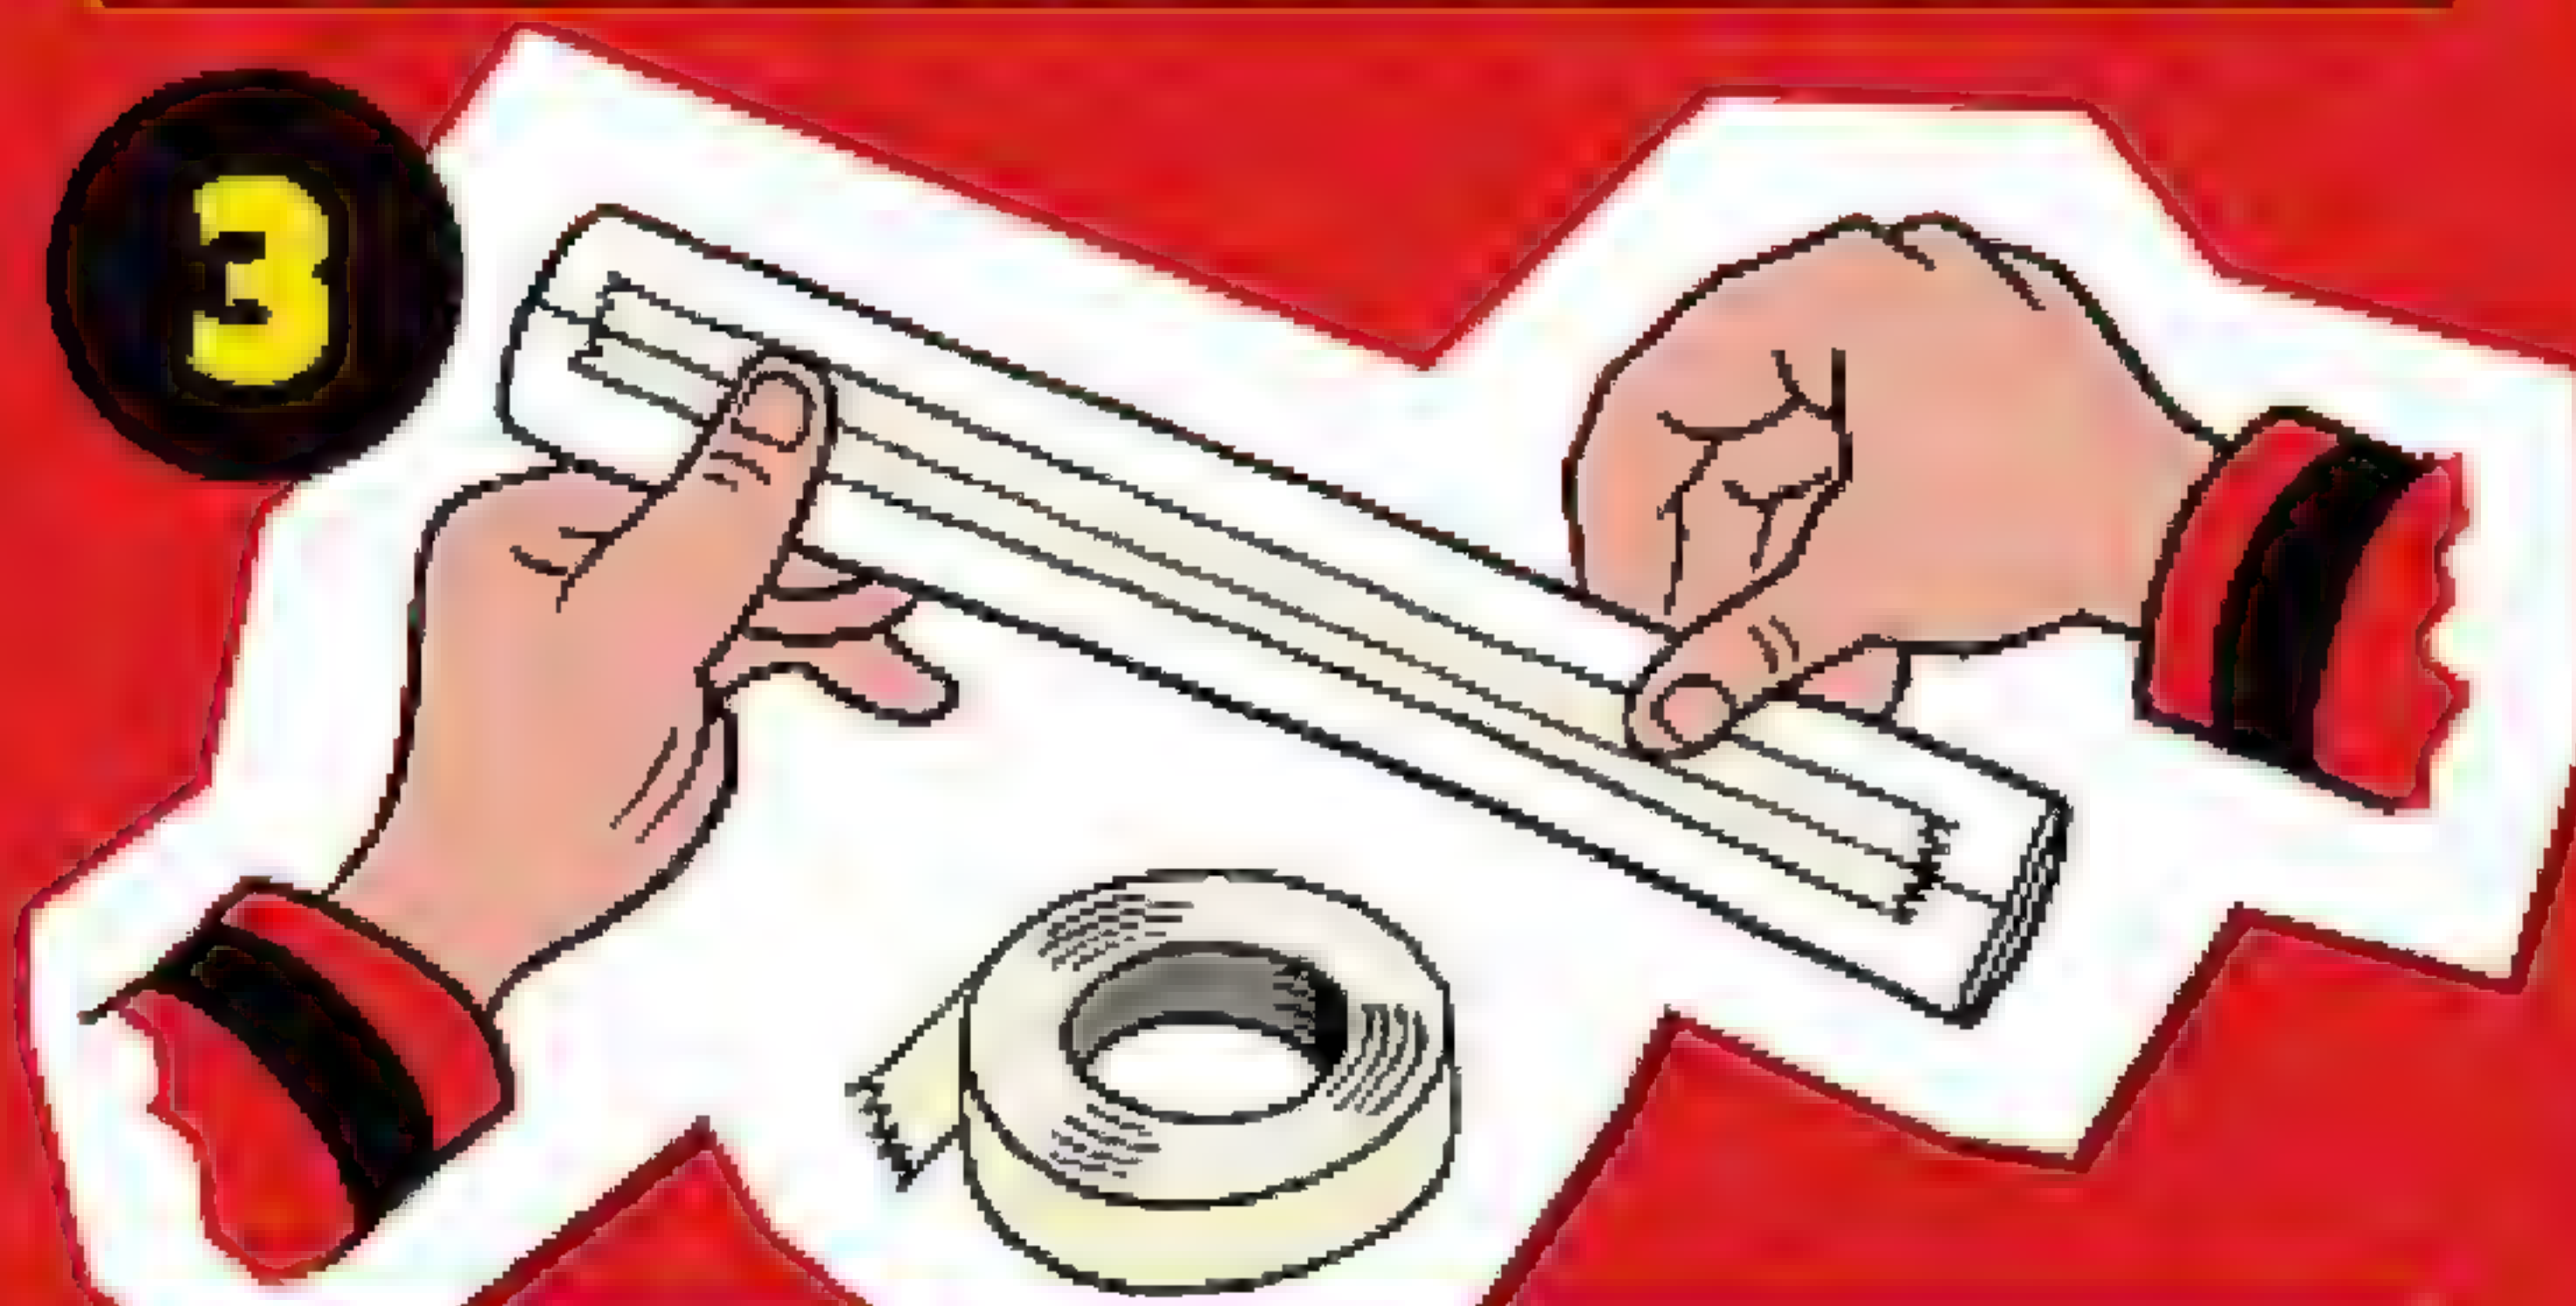

Put the sheets of paper lengthways on a table and use the ruler to mark 2cm up the short side of the top sheet. Start folding your paper using this mark as a guide of how much paper to fold up. Fold the paper over four times, pressing it down after each fold.

2

Use the top of the fold and make a snip into each side about 2cm long.

3

Take the elastic bands and stretch them over the folded paper and slot into the cuts you've just made. Fold the paper over one more time and then snip the rest of paper away, leaving about a cm to fold up and stick to keep the whole thing in place.

4

Bend in half. Really squash it as much as you can.

6

Your catapult is now ready to use! You can use ammo from a little strip of paper folded over the elastic band. Pull it tight and let go to watch it fly!

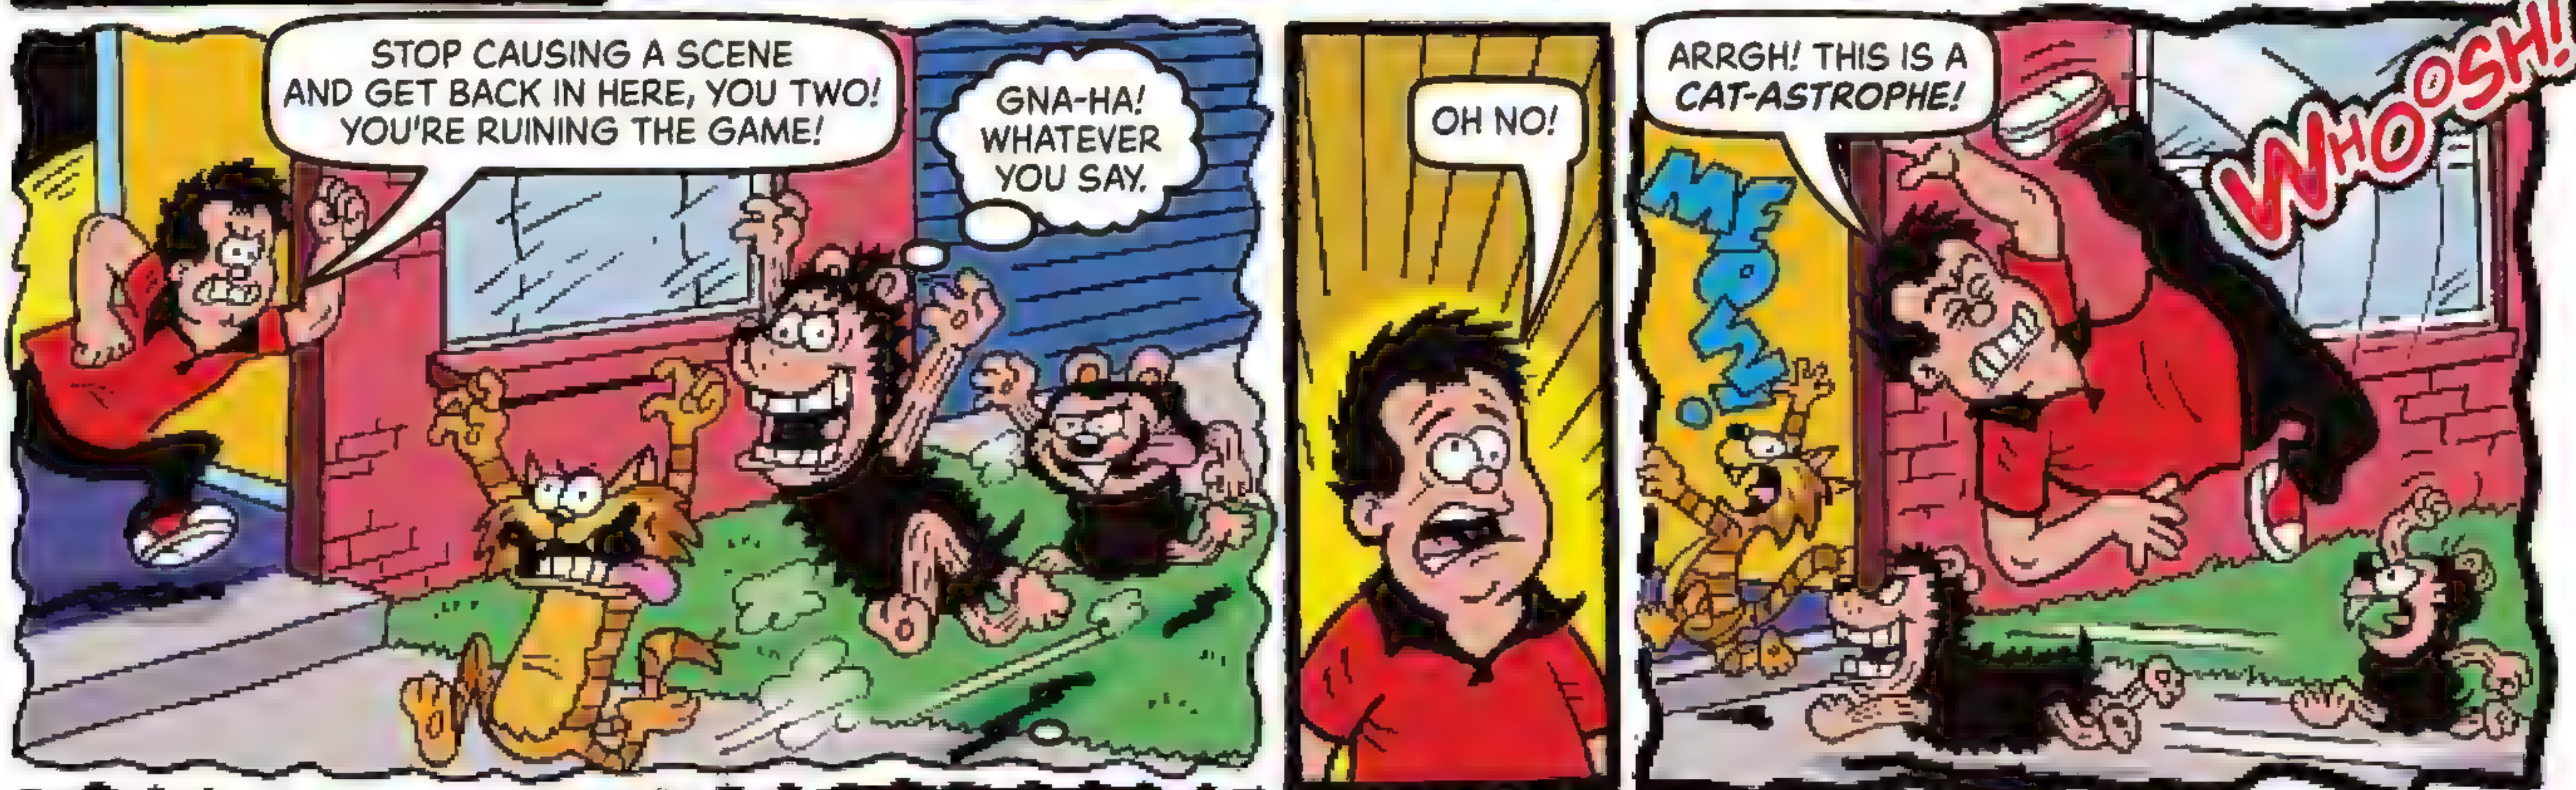

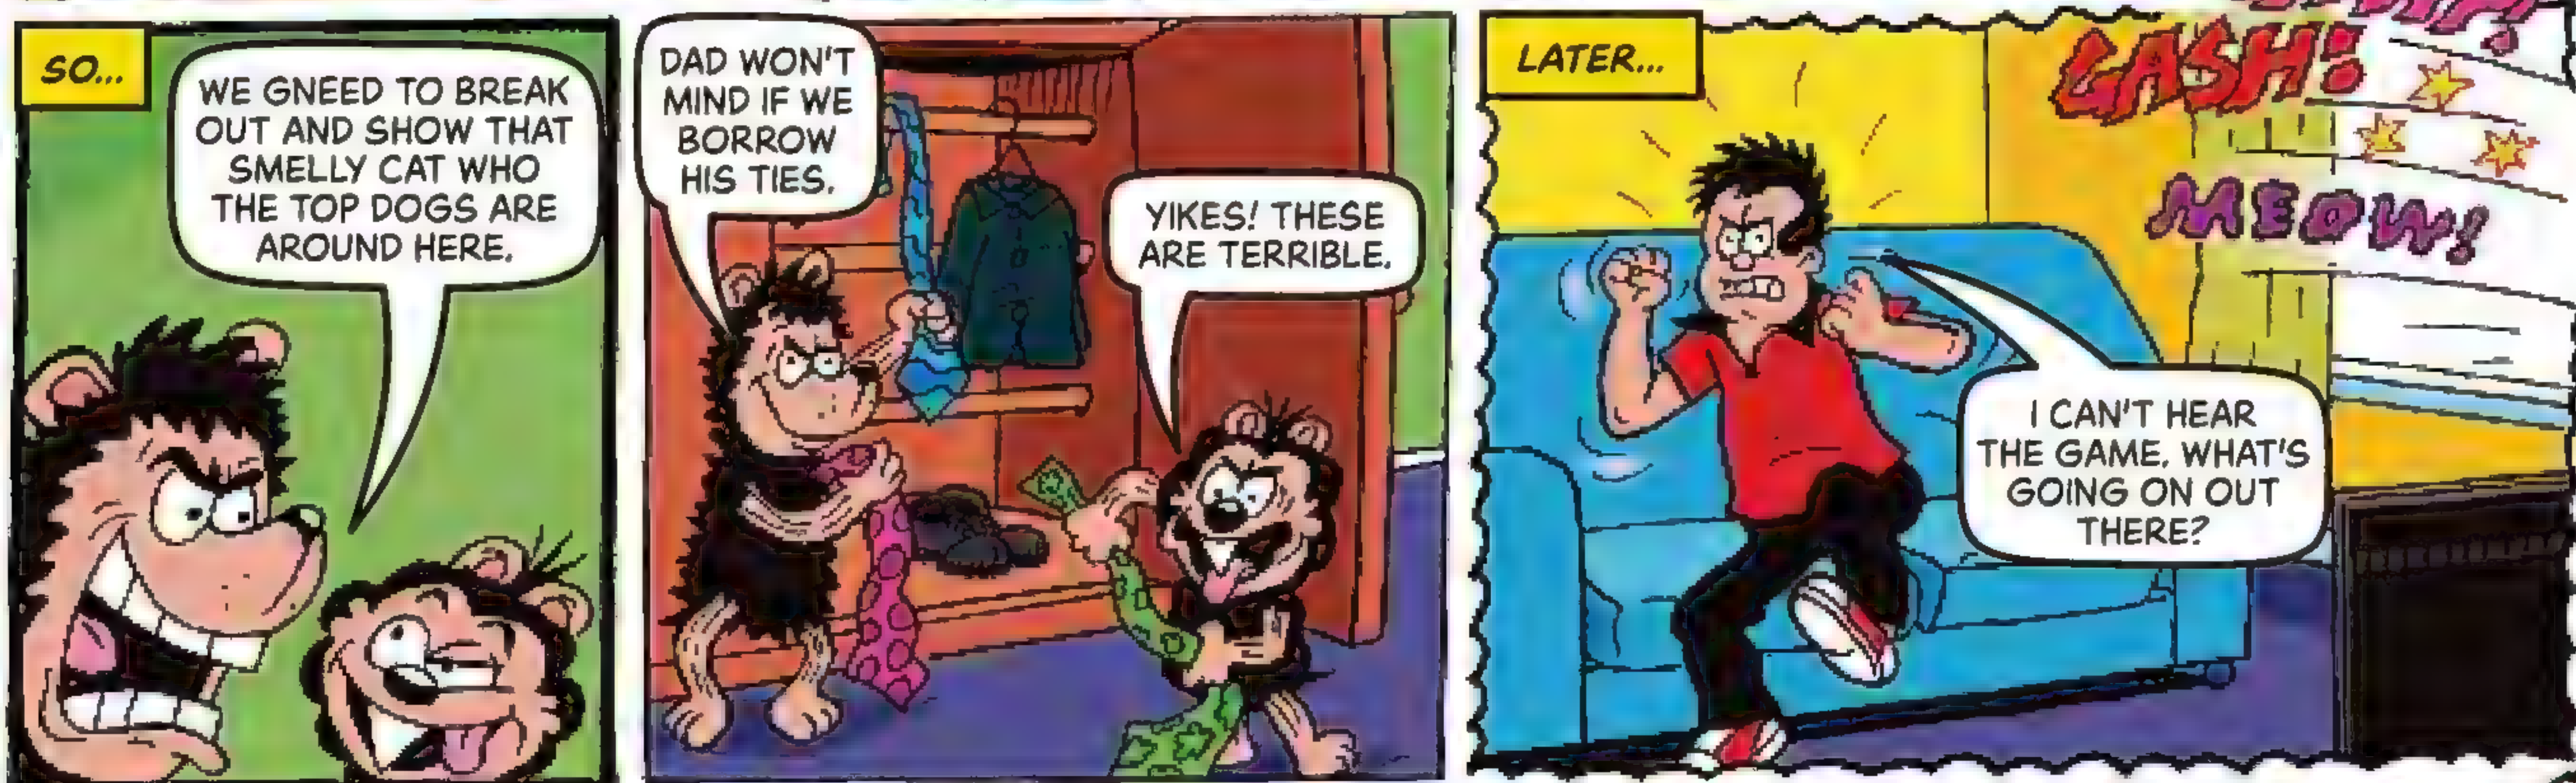

5

Once you've folded the paper in half, fold the arms back down to make an 'm' shape. When you fold them up again, the middle of the 'm' will be the catapult's grip.

Mix the same amount of PVA glue and white paint in a bowl. Cut out a large piece of greaseproof paper.

2

Pour the mixture onto the paper in the shape of a splat and leave it to dry.

Once it's dry, carefully peel the splat shape off the greaseproof paper.
